

At Popular, we believe that all humans are entitled to fundamental rights and freedoms. We recognize that companies and the private sector have a key role to play in ensuring the respect for human rights in their operations and the regions where they are present.

Guided by the principles set forth in the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights and our belief that respect for human rights is a minimum standard for responsible business, Popular supports fundamental human rights, their protection and fulfillment, across all our lines of business and in all regions where we conduct business. In engaging with our employees, customers, suppliers and communities in our day-to-day business activities, our commitment is to support, engage and carry out fair and responsible business practices that avoid causing, contributing to, or being directly linked to adverse human rights impacts.

As an employer, Popular is committed to valuing and protecting our employees and treating them with dignity and respect, while aiming to ensure ethical, fair, equitable, inclusive, and safe workspaces that protects human rights and allow our people to thrive. Our promise of being a safe workplace for all is also embedded in our Code of Ethics.

